

Michael Tang
Chief Executive Officer
The Location Company

As Chief Executive Officer of The Location Company, Michael Tang is responsible for the execution of the company's strategy, a role which he has assumed in 1999, when he and his fellow directors acquired LoJack (HK), Hong Kong's first location-specific radio frequency network for stolen vehicle tracking and recovery, and launched the LBS industry in Hong Kong. Since then Michael has had primary responsibility for management and motivation of the staff that has driven the company's explosive growth, financial performance and other key elements of the company's successful development.

Before joining LoJack (HK), Michael was the Director of the Asia Trade Exchange, a Canadian based trade promotions company offering PRC companies full trade and business services both regionally and in North America. Michael successfully set up the company's headquarters in Hong Kong and established offices in Taipei, Guangzhou and Shenyang. Under Michael's leadership, Asia Trade Exchange quickly became one of the most successful firms to enable Asian companies to do business in North America.

An accountant by training, Michael graduated with an Honours Degree in Economics and Accountancy from City University, London, He started his professional career with Price Waterhouse where he worked in audit and then corporate recovery, making a name for himself as a corporate re-structuring specialist.